Rowing Success with GroundSure Sponsorship!

September 2007

GroundSure was proud to sponsor members of Richards Gray at the Corporate 8's Challenge organised by Reading Rowing Club.

The event took place on Saturday 1st September at Reading Rowing Club and saw two teams from Richards Gray and seven other local business teams compete in time trials and head-to-head races.

The event followed five weeks of hard training by the rowers, who received intensive training from Reading Rowing Club Coaches, with many having had no previous experience on the water.

The Richards Gray "Easy Oars" crew made an impressive start to the day by being fastest in the time trial and then going on to win a hotly-contested final, racing to victory ahead of a Microsoft team and an 'Independent Women' team whose progress has been featured on local television.

The Richards Gray "nRG" team also performed very well in the time trial and were placed third in their heat finale after having had such success earlier in the day.

Managing Director Mike Richards was elated with the day's results and commented "well done to both the "nRG" and "Easy Oars" crews. I witnessed the amount of time and dedication that went into preparing for the event and the training obviously worked! It was fantastic seeing both teams out on the water and knowing that we have raised over £1,500 for Thames Valley local air ambulance service makes the event even more special."

Team captain David Jones said: "It was a great day, and of course it was nice to win our final, but the main thing was that everyone enjoyed themselves. Thanks again to Reading Rowing Club for their efforts in organising a great day out, and also our sponsors GroundSure, Boyes Turner, James Cowper and Cyan Group."
